W. W. Hilton Takes Out Papers

The campaign for four positions on the Redwood City Council assumed the proportions of a real contest today, with the announcement by City Clerk Ralph Dodge that W. W. Hilton, long mentioned as a possible entrant, had taken out nomination papers. Mayor Floyd Granger filed his papers today, Dodge said.

Of the four who have already filed, two, Granger and C. C. Armstrong, are at present serving on the council. Ole Oleson. automobile dealer, and W. J. McKeegan, attorney, are the other candidates. George McNulty, council member, has taken out papers but they have not been filed.

Oleson today took cognizance of rumors questioning his residential qualifications to run for the city office. He explained that until 1940 he lived on Summit Dr., Emerald Lake, but in that year he moved to 930 Main St. and now resides in the Duane Apts.

Granger's papers, which were circulated by Judson W. Mak, bore the following signatures: George F. Locatelli, Peter G. Christensen, Inez V. Carolla, Louise G. Fox, Della M. Winkenwerder, Constance B. Bowen, Thomas W. Cutting, Andrew Stewart, Margaret Blakely and Rollo O. La Berge.

Navy Plans Tanforan Improvements

SAN BRUNO—Improvements totaling $4,170,000 will be made to the Navy Personnal Depot at Tanforan, San Bruno, according to information telegraphed from Washington today from Congressman Jack Anderson to his field representative, Glenn R. Baker.

In his message to Baker, Anderson said the navy depot already has approved the expenditures and work is expected to begin immediately.

The improvements will provide facilities for an additional 2,400 men and 140 officers at the base, and recreational and training facilities for a total of 8000 men. Among the new constructions will be barracks, headquarters, and classroom buildings, drill hall, gymnasium, swimming pool, library, chapel, post office and bank. In addition a foot bridge over El Camino Real will be constructed according to the telegram. Aside from new construction, present buildings will be completely reconditioned, Anderson said.

The Tanforan Personnel Depot is an advanced base and with the new expenditures will become one of the outstanding navy training centers in Northern California. Tanforan was formerly one of the oldest and most colorful horse-racing plants in the state.

Eleven miles above the equator the temperature frequently falls to 112 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. Above that it gets warmer rather than colder.

WAR STORY: Time Reveals Drama of Fatal Mission

This week's isue of Time contains a dramatic account of the bombing mission on the South Pacific which last October claimed the life of Captain Fred S. Hinze Jr. of Burlingame.

Capt. Hinze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Hinze of 848 Fairfield Rd. in Burlingame, was killed in action Oct. 26 but the thrill-packed drama surrounding his mission and death was not released at that time. In a copyrighted article, Time describes it:

The bombing mission was a long, risky 2100-mile flight to hit the Jap-held nickel port of Pombelaa on Burton Island, and of the 11 men who rode the B-24 Liberator bomber "Golden Gator," only 4 lived to see their North Australian base again. The story of what happened was recounted by the navigator, Lt. Robert Jones.

"Four ships had bombed the target," he told a correspondent, "then headed for home in a tight diamond formation. Fourteen Jap planes jumped them, shot down the win ship "Fyrtle Myrtle." Then the Zeroes shot out one of the "Golden Gator's" engines; the pilot, Capt. Fred S. Hinze Jr., dived the ship into a cloud.

"We got jumped by more Zeros—at least 10 of them—and maybe 12. Our gunners really went to work and such shooting you never did see. In 40 minutes I saw three Zeros explode and five more crash into the sea.

"The 'Golden Gator' lost another engine and a third was stalling. Capt. Hinze dived sharply to windmill the engine back into action, skimming so low over a small island that the tail took a chunk out of a tree.

"The 'Golden Gator' climbed hopefully again, but this time twin-engined Jap fighters attacked. All we had was our top gun and 25 rounds of amunition. Johnny Wine used that in one burst. We were a dead duck."

Bombarded with bullets from the Japs, many of the crew were killed in the next few minutes. Capt. Hinze told the men he was going to set the plane down on the water and asked that the escape hatch be opened. By this time he had been badly injured by flying Jap bullets, and a fatal one struck him in the chest just as he landed the plane. The four survivors managed to get two life rafts inflated and on the second day searching bombers sighted them.

Capt. Hinze was well known on the Peninsula where he was a star football player while a student at Burlingame High School and later at San Mateo Junior College. In addition to his parents, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Hinze of 1863 8th St., San Francisco, and a brother, Richard Hinze, a naval aviation cadet.

'Barney' Offley Is Prisoner

Sgt. Bernard (Barney) Offley, reported missing over Germany on Jan. 11, is a German prisoner of war. This news was revealed Tuesday by his mother, Mrs. A. D. Offley, who received a telegram from the sergeant's wife, Jessie, stating that she had received official notification of the fact from the War Department.

Offley came to Redwood City with his parents about two years ago from Park Rapids, Minn., where his wife Jessie now lives with her parents. He was employed at the Western Pipe and Steel Co., South San Francisco prior to entering the army in November, 1942.

Recorder Reveals Sale of Tideland

Grant Co. has sold 900 acres of tideland property one mile south of San Mateo to the Leslie Salt Co., it was revealed Tuesday with the recording of a deed with County Recorder T. C. Rice at request of California Pacific Title & Trust Co. Stamps on the deed indicated the sale price was $18,500. The property is east of El Camino Real and is divided in two by Bayshore Hwy.

Veterans May Get Furlough

"American veterans of long service in World War II may soon be coming home on furlough under a troop rotation plan to be inaugurated by the war department."

That news is probably the best that many parents and wives have had since their men went out of the country two or more years ago.

Just how wonderful those furloughs will prove to be to the tired veterans who receive them will depend in large part on the thoughtfulness and consideration of their families.

The wives or parents who are fortunate enough to have a serviceman sent home on furlough from abroad should never lose sight of the fact that it is the man's furlough, not his family's, and that during it, nothing matters except that he gets out of his furlough just what he wanted.

His family shouldn't say, even to his oldest friends: "You must drop by and see Bill." They should wait and find out whether Bill wants to see people.

And they shouldn't let their natural politeness keep them from holding at a distance all the people he doesn't want to spend time on.

Nor should Mama say, when Bill says he doesn't want to get up and talk to the women's club, "Please, Bill. It would make me so happy. Why, I'd be so terribly proud of you."

Having to make a speech might very well ruin Bill's whole furlough.

Nor should there be a lot of talk of all that Bill's family has gone through worrying about him. He'll know without being told they have worried plenty.

And such talk as "I don't see how I can stand having you go away again" will just make his going that much harder for him.

Families are going to have to be unselfish, thoughtful and considerate—if the long-awaited furloughs servicemen receive are to be as wonderful as they dreamed they would be.

Care Center Increasing Enrollment

Starting with an enrollment of five children and a staff of six on Jan. 28, the Redwood City day care center for children of working mothers reached the end of 1942 with 75 children registered and a staff of six supplementary teachers, one cook, one housekeeper and a director. The history of the center, which was organized and directed by the war council, is revealed in the annual report of Andrew Spinas, chairman of the child care program.

In the early days of the school, the report reveals, a flat charge of 80 cents per day was assessed for each child, which was reduced to 50 cents a day to comply with a standard set for such schools throughout the nation.

The center is supported by a grant from the federal government under the provisions of the Lanham Act, plus fees collected. Children receive mid-morning lunch, dinner at noon and mid-afternoon lunch, and some have breakfast at the center. They take a nap every day in beds scaled to child size. As a result of the schedule at the center, children enrolled there have shown a definite improvement in eating habits and health, according to the report. Ages of the children range from 2 to 16.

Local industries have supported the center financially, and through interest shown in the enterprise, Spinas states the American Red Cross has co-operated in the project. Sheets for the beds were furnished by the Palomar Red Cross Salvage Group.

Hyman Reveals Youth Move

Joseph L. Hyman, chairman of the San Mateo County Probation Committee, Wednesday declared that the committee is seeking ways and means of establishing preventative methods of dealing with the juvenile delinquency problem rather than by policing and punishment.

Hyman did not say whether or not the change of policy would mean that Probation Officer Francis Robinson would be called "onto the carpet," but it is significant that the committee usually meets at the juvenile home here with Robinson in attendance, but this week's meeting was held elsewhere and Robinson said he was not sent a notice of the meeting.

Hyman said that this week's special meeting was called to determine whether or not preventative work is being done. No conclusion was reached, he said.

He declared there was no personal criticism.

Hyman declared the committee will determine what to do and who to do it at its next meeting, Mar. 14.

Feldman Purchases Broadway Building

Harry B. Feldman and his wife, Sadye, have purchased the building at 2098 Broadway, it was disclosed Wednesday by a deed recorded by San Mateo County Title Co. Stamps affixed to the deed indicated a sales price of $30,000.

The seller was Michael Miraglia, San Francisco venetian blind manufacturer who had purchased the property as an investment. The building houses the Feldman Tire Co.

War Board Reviews Farm Cases

Washington advices to tighten up on farm draft deferments will have little bearing on this county, D. T. Campbell, chairman of the San Mateo County USDA War Board disclosed Wednesday.

"Since Dec. 8, 1943, all draft boards have requested recommendations from us on farm cases," Campbell said. "The San Mateo County War Board is at present reviewing all workers under 26 and many above that age. Although this work is not fully complete, most farm people are already aware of about what may be expected."

Of the cases reviewed, 60 per cent of the men have been found essential and have been recommended for deferment, Campbell said. The procedure has provided additional young men under 25 for the army, while still assuring adequate food production for this area.

The San Mateo War Board is composed of Chairman Campbell, W. G. Scott, Redwood City; J. L. Carter, Half Moon Bay; J. H. Cunha, Half Moon Bay, G. N. Keyston, San Mateo; M. R. Mattei, Pescadero and R. I. McLellan, Colma.

Train Hits, Kills, Welder in Tunnel

Gino Nomellino, a track welder, was struck and killed by a northbound Southern Pacific train Tuesday in Tunnel 4, on the county line, when he stepped in front of it to get out of the path of an oncoming southbound train. He was 42, and his home was in San Francisco.

Eddie Silva Receives SeaBee Camp Newspaper From Brother

MENLO PARK—Eddie Silva, co-owner of the Menlo Fruit Market, received something of interest today from the South Pacific. His brother, George Silva is with the Seabees, stationed there. George sent him a camp "newspaper" which new movie received for the camp told of a preview showing of use. This little "newspaper," (one page typewritten) mentioned their happiness in receiving the new film, and one paragraph in particular was worthy of quotation.

". . . our 'Angel' in this instance, is our own chaplain, Lieutenant Barksdale. . . . of all routines of civilian life we have sacrificed to take part in this war, there are two which we still have the privilege of continuing. Our religion and our entertainment. Both made possible by our chaplain. In the latter field, however, he has been most ably assisted by George Silva (and what that guy can't get for that projection booth, just ain't on this island) . . . ."

George Silva, and another brother, Danny, who is with the U. S. Army Tank Battalion, recently met in one of those out of the world spots, and had time enough to talk over their experiences.

All of these boys are well known in the Menlo Park area where they have grown to manhood and attended the local schools.

Oil was discovered as a fuel and a lubricant at about the time whale oil, which was the main standby, was becoming scarce because of the wide dispersal of the whale.

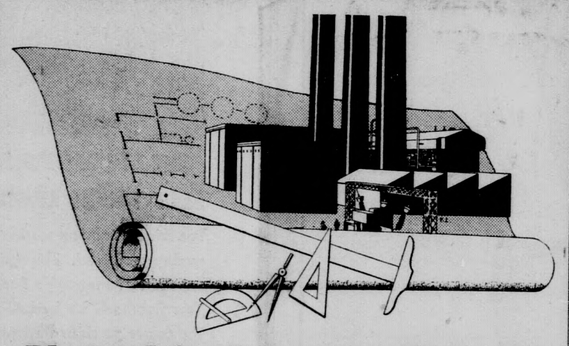
Electric Power Meets Wartime Needs



Planned for Peacetime Progress
READY FOR WAR DEMANDS

PLANNING AHEAD for customers of this company is a job that is never finished. It is always on the drafting boards, on the blue prints and with engineers and construction men.

When the biggest job of all came along—A Nation at War—then the results of foresight and planning were tested. To supply the needs of "all-out" war production with a speed and scope never equalled before, called for Peak Power from this company. And every call for electricity from war industries and the military forces has been met promptly and in full.

Like the logistics of army supply, an electric system must also have carefully planned sources of supply, strategically located, together with available reserves. Thus this company has 64 electric plants with interconnected switch-over facilities serving Northern and Central California. Among these 64 powerhouses are 13 steam power plants to supplement the electric load on its hydro power plants. One big dam, or one big powerhouse or two, could not dependably supply the demands of progressive California.

We ask the continued cooperation of all customers to conserve and save electricity, because military and war industry needs come first.

Seeing-Eye Dog Is Being Retrained

Betty, the seeing-eye dog which leads Charles Ward, blind World War I veteran, from his post office cigar counter to his home twice daily, is being retrained.

Ward said that Betty, a gift of the Disabied American Veterans, is being schooled by James McBride, 852 Main St., recently discharged from the army. McBride is a veteran of both wars, and before World War II trained seeing-eye dogs at his kennels in Seattle.

"Betty is slack," McBride said. "It is important that pedestrians should keep their hands strictly off seeing eye dogs. Motorists should give all pedestrians — especially blind ones—a break. Particularly they should not park their cars in pedestrian lanes."

Dibble Hospital Gets First Overseas Patients

MENLO PARK—Dibble General Hospital received its first overseas patients Tuesday—300 men from the Pacific Area.

Practically all of them were sufferers from illness rather than wounds, Col. William H. Allen said, and few were in serious cindition.

They rolled down the highway in a convoy of ambulances and busses, arriving at Dibble at about 11:30.

Prior to today's influx, the only patients at the new army hospital had been Stanford or Santa Clara trainees or men from army installations in the area.

The armed services now use "paperboard" boxes so weatherproofed that they can be submerged for 24 hours without falling apart.

Murphy Receives New Award

For "courage, coolness and skill" displayed while participating in five additional combat missions over Europe, 2nd Lt. Emmett John Murphy of Route 1, Menlo Park, has been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to wear with his Air Medal, the report of an Eighth Army Air Force Bomber Station in England states. The medal is awarded upon completion of five successful missions, and each additional five bring another cluster.

Lieutenant Murphy, a navigator on a flying fortress, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Murphy. Mrs. Murphy said today that a recent letter from him indicated he had completed 17 missions. He is looking forward to completing his 25th mission, when he will be entitled to come home on leave. There is nothing like the California climate, the flier says, and he finds England a bit on the damp side.

Sequoia Schedules Qualifying Tests

Admission-identification forms for the third Army-Navy college qualifying test, to be given Mar. 15 at 9 a.m., are now available at Sequoia High School.

Forms may be obtained from J. W. Thornton, Room 3.

The test is open to male civilians between the ages of 17 and 21 on July 1, 1944. This includes students now in their final year of high school, recent graduates of high school or students now in attendance at an accredited college without a certificate of graduation from high school.

The examination does not entail any obligation to enter either service program if the student is accepted. However, if a preference is indicated for either the army or the navy, the applicant will not be considered for the other service.

Luncheon Tickets Move

Forty reservations have been made for the first monthly luncheon meeting of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce which will be held at Sodini's Tavern Tuesday noon. Mgr. E. W. (Ned) Butler says reservations may still be made tomorrow for the luncheon.

Adrien J. Faulk, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and vice president and general manager of the S&W Fine Foods Inc., is speaker. Bay Area industrial development and Redwood City's part in postwar plans will be discussed.

The luncheon meetings are an innovation in the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. Ferris W. Miles, president of the organization, said that Tuesday's meeting is the first of a series which will bring before the group speakers who will discuss topics of definite interest to the community. Forums will be held for group discussion of vital problems, he said. An opportunity will also be provided for short business sessions at the time of the meetings to transact business usually reserved for the annual dinner meeting.

COMMUTERS: Bridge Group Has Indomitable Spirit

BY JOE CABOOSE

Nothing succeeds like success. Clarence Brizee tells us that the Commuters' war bond drive had gained such momentum that it ran up a total of $80,712 by the time the campaign's final gun sounded last Tuesday.

It is interesting to note that Redwood City's two top clubs—Kiwanis and Commuters—sold a total of approximately $150,000 in bonds, which is roughly 12 per cent of the $1,200,000 total sold in the Redwood City-Woodside-La Honda territory.

★ ★ ★

Train-riding bridge players are a hardy lot. They shake off insults like water off a duck's back. And nothing—including the S. P.'s hand-out cards and the editorial in the Burlingame Advance—seems to discourage them.

★ ★ ★

The other morning we climbed on the last coach of the 6:51 o'clock and found it to be a lounge car. A "cocktail corner" to accommodate four was taken over by two card-players and held against all assaults until San Carlos was reached when they were joined by two card-playing buddies.

The game was just nicely under way at Belmont when all lights went out in the lounge car. The rest of the trip to San Francisco was made in darkness. But did this discourage the bridge addicts? Not at all. Friendly Kibitzers held matches for them, until someone showed up with a fountain pen flashlight, and this kept the game going until the break of dawn overtook the train about South City. Yes, they're a hardy lot.

Young America . . . Dr. James Thornton gave his sub teen-age son an order which had the appearance of being ignored. Two minutes later Dr. Jim, a strict disciplinarian, followed up sharply: "Son, did you hear what I said?" Young Thornton yawned and replied: "No I didn't. But it's okay, Dad, I probably wouldn't be interested anyhow."

Just learned that Dorothy (Mrs. Jack) Poole reads this column. Which now makes eight that we know of. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Martin Levy are both ill at their home on Arlington Rd. They are being ministered to by the sick committee, which may or may not be favorable to early convalescence.

By order of the board of directors, Commuter Club officials have re-registered the club as sponsor of Troop 160, Boy Scouts of America. Chester Armstrong, who remains as scoutmaster, reported that the troop has prospered under Commuter sponsorship, and that the morale of the boys of 160 is high.

"San Francisco's famous Fairmont Hotel, which defied earthquake and fire in 1906, is ready for the world of tomorrow. Its garage roof has been turned into a landing field for vertical-landing helicopters, helicabs, aerocars and roadable airplanes. After the war, they tell us, you'll be able to buy a lightweight four-passenger helicopter for around $1200. It will cost no more to operate than a car, and will land on a 20-foot-square space, hover motionless in mid-air, fly at 150 m.p.h., take off and descend vertically, move forward, backwards or sideways with equal ease."

A letter from local bus line operator Martin, addressed to Commuter Club Secy. W. J. McKeegan, protesting Greyhound's announced intention of establishing a competing service on Middlefield Rd., was taken up at a special meeting of the board of directors at Tom Giannini's house last Tuesday night. The board agreed unanimously to support Mr. Martin in protesting the estabiishment of the rival line, on the grounds that the route is now adequately served and that a competing carrier would impair the whole structure of the local bus service.

The "Deep South" is still fighting the Civil War. We wrote to Uncle Jim in Alabama and asked him how long he thought the war would last. He replied as follows: "It will take six months to beat the Germans; a year to beat the Japs . . . and another year to beat the gol darn Yankees!"

Wife Granted Right To Exhume Body

Superior Court Judge A. R. Cotton today signed an order granting Mrs. Beatrice O'Neill of San Francisco permission to exhume the body of her husband, William O'Neill, to determine if an unauthorized autopsy had been performed.

O'Neill died Apr. 4, 1943, in San Francisco and was buried three days later in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma. On June 2, 1943, the body was moved to another plot in the cemetery and it was discovered, Mrs. O'Neill charged, that a large incision had been made and sewed together by cord, indicating that an autopsy had been performed.

Mrs. O'Neill claims no autopsy had been authorized. She has retained Dr. Jesse Carr of San Francisco to determine of an autopsy had been performed.

Julia tells how to add taste appeal to cabbage, carrots, parsnips

IT'S NOT always easy to find excitingly different fresh vegetables this time of year—but it is easy to prepare the familiar old favorites in such a way that they take on an entirely new meaning.

All that's required, really, is a dash of daring and a sprinkling of ingenuity!

Here are a few of my own favorites. Perhaps they'll suggest some of the endless variations that can be played on the theme of winter vegetables:

Mock Crab Salad—Combine equal amounts of raw peeled shredded parsnip, carrot, apple and celery. Moisten with lemon juice and mayonnaise. It's really good!

Cabbage Chop Suey — Combine 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup each of sliced celery and onion. Season to taste. Fry covered in 2 tbsps. shortening for 8 minutes.

Panfried Turnips or Rutabagas—Peel and slice. Boil slices 5 minutes. Dip in flour and fry in shortening, same as potatoes.

Onion Dumplings—Add 1 cup grated onion to regular 2-cup dumpling dough. Cook on top of stew.

Raw-Fried Carrots—Fry peeled carrot circles just as you do raw-fried potatoes.

Cream of Cabbage and Potato Soup—Take equal parts of shredded cabbage and sliced or diced potatoes. Simmer until tender in water to cover. Add 3 cups milk, and season to taste. Serve piping hot!

Parsnip Patties — To each cup of mashed cooked parsnips, add one well-beaten egg. Season and drop by tablespoonfuls into hot shortening. Fry until golden brown.

Nut-Topper—Mash sweet potatoes or squash. Reheat and serve topped with chopped roasted peanuts.

Onion Pancakes—Add one cup grated onion to 2 cups prepared pancake batter (delicious with any meat, or topped with creamed meat or fish).

Turnip Puffs—To 3 cups of hot, well-seasoned, mashed turnips or rutabagas, add 2 well-beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well-greased baking dish, in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes.

Glazed Parsnips—Cut cooked parsnips lengthwise. Brown in well-buttered frying pan. Sprinkle with brown sugar and turn frequently.

Baked Onion — Bake whole large onions, dry outer skins and all, on oven rack exactly like potatoes, about 45 min. in moderate oven (350° F.). Serve by breaking open and seasoning with salt, pepper and butter or margarine.

Baked Carrot—Shred peeled carrots, arrange in buttered covered casserole. Season to taste. Bake without water in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes.

Cabbage Rolls—Roll leftover meat made into hash (or fresh-ground seasoned meat) in cabbage leaves. Tie and steam about 1 hour, or until done.
